51. Whenever the State Forester finds it necessary to act upon any petition as provided in Section 50, to designate a special fire prevention area, he shall publish a notice at least twice in two papers of general circulation in the county or counties wherein said areas are to be designated, said notice to quote the provisions of Sections 50 and 51 of this Article, said publication to be made not sooner than three months nor later than one month prior to the date when the said designation of such fire prevention areas are to become effective. Any party feeling himself aggrieved by the designation of any such fire prevention area shall have the right, before the expiration of thirty days from the date of the last publication of notice by the State Forester, to file an appeal from the decision of the State Forester to a Court of competent jurisdiction in the County where said fire prevention area is located, naming the State Forester as defendant, and the entry of any such appeal shall operate as a stay of said designation of said fire prevention area. It shall be the duty of the Court to which such appeal is taken, to forthwith hear and determine the same, and to affirm or reverse the decision from which said appeal is taken, and such determination shall be final and not subject to further appeal. If no appeal from the decision of the State Forester be filed within thirty days from the date of such last publication, or if the State Forester's decision is affirmed by the Court to which appeal is taken, the State Forester shall proceed to designate said fire prevention area, requiring an authorized agent of the State Department of Forestry to post conspicuous notices defining the boundaries of the fire prevention area, calling attention to the requirements of Section 50 of this Article, and making known the local forest officers from whom permits may be procured; the State Forester shall also inform the local justices of the peace having jurisdiction within the said fire prevention area, as to the boundaries of said fire prevention area, citing the specifications of this Act, and furnishing said justices with copies of any and all rules and regulations formulated by the State Forester governing the issuance, cancellation and renewal of permits. In addition to the duties herein prescribed the State Forester shall arrange for the performance of such other acts as in his judgment seems proper and necessary to inform the residents of the new fire prevention area as to the requirements of Section 50 of this Article. If, after any special fire prevention area has been
